Department of Sociology and Social Work

3 to 5 Year STRATEGIC PLAN

Dr. Robert “Bob” Davis, Chair

March 2007
Department of Sociology and Social Work

The Department is a supportive community of committed faculty, staff and experienced sociology and social work practitioners who prepare students to make a positive impact on the lives of others. We are committed to excellence in education and our graduates are prepared to provide leadership as they meet present and future challenges with creative solutions. Through the study of sociology and social work, students gain access to concrete skills that are relevant to a broad range of rewarding careers. These skills enhance the student's ability to assess new and unfamiliar situations, to select and apply qualitative and/or quantitative techniques in solving practical problems in creative ways, and to communicate effectively, both orally and in writing. All majors are required to take courses in Sociology, Statistics, Sociological Theory and Research.

Degrees Offered and Program Requirements:

The Bachelor of Arts in Sociology (BA) requires completion of a minimum of 128 semester hours of university courses. Included in the 128 semester hours are 49 hours of Sociology. A minimum grade of “C” must be achieved in these courses; sociology majors are required to complete an 18 hour concentration. Sociology majors are also required to successfully complete a one semester internship in their senior year.

The Bachelor of Social work (BSW) requires completion of a minimum of 128 semester hours of University courses. Included in the 128 semester hours are 42 semester hours of Social Work. Certification in School Social Work (127 credits) requires completion of 9 specific credits in Social Work and 2 credits in the School of Education. A minimum grade of “C” must be achieved in major courses. Social Work majors are required to successfully complete an internship in their senior year. The BSW program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.

The Joint Master of Social Work (JMSW) program represents the efforts of faculty and administrators at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University (NC A&T SU) and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG). This is a single academic program with instruction by faculty from each department. Administration of the program rotates between the two campuses every four years. There are two portal of entry, each requiring 60 semester hours. The full time program is completed in two years, and the part time program in three years. The JMSW program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.
Vision:

Our ideal vision for the department over the next three to five years is one in which faculty are engaged in ongoing research programs and students are significantly challenged by the teaching and mentoring they experience, the literature they read, the writing and critical thinking skills they develop, and the diverse social worlds they encounter in research activities, internships, and civic service. We want to produce not only knowledgeable social actors but social change agents who through active citizenship and social responsibility are prepared to "make a difference" in the quality of others' lives as well as the quality of their own. Persons educated in the department would be equipped and motivated to contribute to the improvement of their communities, their nation, and their world.

Mission Statement:

The following statements describe the values and expectations that guide the Department of Sociology and Social Work at North Carolina A & T. They are a foundation for the Department’s goals and objectives.

1) We are committed to diversity and intellectual pluralism in our ways of teaching and our modes of scholarship.
2) Our curriculum reflects the long standing interest in our disciplines in examining the human condition and applying sociology and social work to its improvement.
3) We are teachers and scholars.
   a. Our faculty members have lively, ongoing research programs that involves them in scholarly and applied knowledge communities.
   b. We share our knowledge with professional colleagues through publications in scholarly journals and through other means of communication.
   c. We strive to be good teachers who work to facilitate student learning in as many ways as possible, and are continually strengthening our pedagogical skills and experiences.
4) We prepare students for successful lives after A&T: for graduate education, for applied professional fields, and for the world of work.
5) We prepare students to be social agents who have a self-reflective sense of their empowerment and potential contributions to the enhancement of the human condition.
6) Members of our department are involved in activities on campus and in community and professional activities off-campus that express and advance our department mission.
7) Our department emphasizes collegiality. We want to maintain a welcoming environment for all faculty members, staff, students, alumni,
