GOT QEP?

We teach students how to think, not what to think.

Dr. Kenneth Thomas North, Fourth President of ASU, 1967
Our Critical Thinking QEP will help you better compete with students from other universities when you graduate.

In your major courses, instructors will be explicitly teaching you how critical thinking is applied in your major, and they will help you build your critical thinking skills. Critical thinking development will occur in your major classes from the freshman to senior year. You will also be assessed on your critical thinking skills as an incoming freshman, a sophomore, and as a senior. It would be like getting two grades on a project; a content grade as normal and a critical thinking score. The assessment is not a graduation requirement, but it is designed to keep track of how you are growing as a critical thinker.

Ten departments and the School of Nursing were chosen to start: Electrical & Computer Engineering, Visual & Performing Arts, Journalism & Mass Communication, Accounting, Marketing, Transportation, & Supply Chain, Graphic Communication Systems & Technological Studies, Natural Resources & Environmental Design, Foreign Languages, Human Performance & Leisure Studies, and Mathematics.

http://www.ncat.edu/qep/qep.html

http://cmsserv.ncat.edu/